

Movie Suggestions

For the littles:

1. Disney's original ALADDIN (animated)

Jasmine, Aladdin and the Genie all share the same deep desire for "freedom" ...and they all try to achieve it differently. Aladdin has an obvious pose framework and gives in to Image management.

2. MULAN (original Disney animated version)

3. INSIDE OUT

For older kids

1. LION KING (live action version)

For teenagers and above

1. STAR WARS saga

So many of the main characters have obvious pose frameworks and are trying to meet their deep desires in their own strength. In their later years, some turn from their own destructive and sabotaging ways and get their desires met the "right" way. (ex. Aniken Skywalker (Darth Vader) and Kylo Ren)